CANADA'S FOOD ISLAND

PEI, affectionately known as Canada's Food Island, is a culinary paradise celebrated for its rich agricultural heritage and abundant seafood. With its fertile farmland and pristine waters, PEI produces some of Canada's finest ingredients, from world-renowned potatoes to succulent lobster and oysters. The Island's vibrant food scene features farm-to-table dining experiences, where local chefs craft dishes that showcase the freshest seasonal produce and seafood. Visitors can explore bustling farmers' markets, enjoy gourmet food festivals, and even partake in culinary tours that highlight the Island's unique flavours and traditions. As a hub for sustainable practices and innovative cuisine, PEI invites food lovers to savour its diverse offerings, making it a must-visit destination for anyone seeking an authentic taste of Atlantic Canada.

Experiences:

The Table Culinary Studio

For adventurous food lovers, indulge in this 7-course tasting menu that showcases meticulously crafted dishes inspired by the seasonal bounty. Executive Chef Hunter Guindon creates this menu each week, with the preparation taking place in an open-concept kitchen. Your dining experience includes an introduction to each dish, insights into the farmers, fishers, and producers behind the ingredients, and personal visits from the Chef at your table to share culinary inspirations.

Lobster Lover's Experience

While many travel from afar to enjoy a Prince Edward Island Lobster Supper, This version is truly unique, designed for those with an adventurous spirit, a quest for the extraordinary, and a curiosity about the origins of their food. Join Captain JJ Chaisson and set sail from the scenic Souris Harbour aboard Chaisson a Dream.

An Island Collective Dining Series

Chef Nick Chindamo, along with his partner Marie, curates a remarkable culinary experience. This exclusive bi-annual event, held in April and December on Prince Edward Island, highlights their commitment to creativity, collaboration, and cultural exploration, all while promoting sustainability and honoring local resources. Featuring 10 like-minded chefs, each tasked with crafting a 10-course meal using assigned ingredients, all while adhering to a zero-waste philosophy.

The Old General Catering House

Join Paige and Chef Christine in their charming old general store, now a commercial kitchen, where they'll immerse you in Canada's Food Island through hands-on cooking experiences. Enjoy stunning views of Murray River as you learn to make lobster rolls—from cracking the lobster to plating the finished roll—or whip up a delightful seafood chowder featuring family secrets, fresh PEI seafood, potatoes, and more. The best part? These recipes are not only delicious but also easy to recreate at home, so you can share your newfound culinary skills with family and friends!

THIS SUMMER WILL BE DIFFERENT

This summer, will you keep your promises to yourself? Or will you give into temptations like oysters, beautiful scenery, lobster rolls and maybe a summer rendezvous? If your answers are "no" and "yes" in that order, your plans sound like those of our new fictional friends Lucy and Felix from Carley Fortune's latest book, This Summer Will Be Different. Released on May 7, 2024, Fortune's story follows the chemistry between Lucy, a visitor to Prince Edward Island and Felix, a handsome local and champion oyster shucker and their exploration of the Island...and one another. If you're curious about places and spaces where they roamed, we invite you to come discover the best of PEI through the eyes of Lucy & Felix.

CRUISE ON PEI

Charlottetown emerges as the crown jewel in any Canada-New England cruise itinerary, seamlessly blending historical significance and natural beauty. As a pivotal port on this route, Charlottetown encapsulates the essence of maritime Canada, serving as a gateway to the region's captivating stories and breathtaking landscapes.

Anne of Green Gables

Each year, Anne of Green Gables attracts more fans, especially with the Audible adaptation and the Netflix series bringing visitors to the Island. The latest interpretation, created by a talented all-female team, is sure to delight Anne herself. In 2024, we'll celebrate the 150th birthday of author Lucy Maud Montgomery with a series of curated events throughout the year.

Imagine dreaming of the Lake of Shining Waters, running down a red clay road, or wandering through the Haunted Wood and Lover's Lane. While fictional, Anne's world is very much alive in the hearts of Islanders and her admirers. Attractions across the Island pay tribute to our beloved Anne and her creator, Lucy Maud Montgomery.

In Charlottetown, enjoy Anne & Gilbert: The Musical at The Guild. In Cavendish, visit Green Gables Heritage Place, explore the Anne of Green Gables Museum in Park Corner, and swing by Lower Bedeque to see the school where Anne taught. You can almost picture her playfully hitting Gilbert with a chalkboard! Discover the profound influence this Island had on Lucy Maud Montgomery, and you'll understand why Anne was so enchanted by life here. Braid your pigtails and come explore Anne's land!

To delve into the rich history behind Anne's phenomenon, start with Lucy Maud Montgomery herself. Born in 1874 on the north shore of Prince Edward Island and raised in Cavendish by her grandparents, she wrote her most famous novel amid this beautiful landscape. Visit her birthplace, the sites of her marriage, and the school where she taught to see how her surroundings inspired Anne of Green Gables.

In 2019, Parks Canada completed a comprehensive rehabilitation of the Green Gables site, featuring a new visitor center with an exhibit hall, gift shop, and café, along with updated interpretive elements.

Outdoors

Media Stories 2025

tourismpei.com/pei-media-stories

Prince Edward Island has endless possibilities for adventure. It's no secret that the people here are passionate about outdoor adventure. With 1,600 km of coastline and the warmest waters north of the Carolinas, going out to sea for adventure is a wonderful place to start. Kayak through scenic Rustico Harbour, test your balance and try stand-up paddle boarding in Malpeque Bay's International Migratory Site, get your adrenaline pumping by kiteboarding, swim at our beautiful beaches, or climb aboard a boat to explore our marine life. Aquatic adventure isn't all that you will find on this Island though. There are many hiking, cycling, and mountain bike trails to get that adrenaline rush!

The Island Walk - Launched in Fall 2021, The Island Walk is a 700 km walking trail that loops around PEI. It takes approximately 32 days to complete (20-25 kilometres per day) and was inspired by the Camino de Santiago in Spain. There are many opportunities to complete the Island Walk in sections and spend more time exploring certain areas that appeal to you. The trail will take you along the ocean, much of the Confederation Trail, red dirt roads, beaches and through quiet secondary roads the outer perimeter of the Island, with a mix of inland and coastal sections. The trail intertwines through PEI's two major cities, Charlottetown and Summerside, and also through many small communities throughout the Island – a wide circle which allows walkers to end the walk where they started.

Scenic Coastal Drives - Touring Prince Edward Island's three scenic coastal drives is a perfect way to explore the Island. With over 45 harbours scattered throughout the jagged coastline, colourful fishing villages, lighthouses, antique shops, and restaurants serving up the freshest of our delicious Island cuisine, there will always be reasons to stop and explore. Check out the storybook villages of Victoria-by-the-Sea, Cavendish, Georgetown, Souris, or Tignish.

Harness Racing - Did you know there are more horses per capita in PEI than anywhere else in North America? Often known as the Kentucky of Canada, visitors come from around the world to experience this authentic Island tradition. The history of harness racing runs deep in the roots of Islanders dating back to 1886. You'll find small training facilities and racetracks as you drive across the Island, but the real action takes place at Red Shores at the Charlottetown Driving Park and in Summerside.
